DCAF-ICRC Knowledge Hub Resource

Resource no.: 98

Link: https://www.cdacollaborative.org/

CDA Collaborative Learning Projects

CDA is a US-based non-profit organisation which offers assistance to international actors engaged in peace practices and sustainable development projects. Based on "the premise that experience is a good teacher", CDA's collaborative learning processes focus on gathering experiences from different actors engaged in peace practices in order to identify patterns and lessons and avoid repeating mistakes of the past. These processes involve humanitarian assistance and development agencies, peace practice groups, as well as corporate enterprises.